ROANOKE RAPIDS, NC (December 5, 2010)—Eric R. Rinehart has been promoted to Administrative Director of Materials Management and Support Services at Halifax Regional.

Rinehart is a native of Norfolk, Virginia. He spent 14 years in the Air Force and eight years at a Silicon Valley software firm. Rinehart came to Halifax Regional four years ago and is a Certified Materials and Resource Professional.

In his new role, Rinehart will manage the Materials Management, Housekeeping, Maintenance, Security and Biomedical Engineering departments.

“The driving force to pursue my master’s degree was to prepare myself for additional responsibility,” Rinehart said. He earned his Associates of Science degree in Logistics from the Community College of the Air Force. Both his Bachelors and Masters degrees are from the University of Phoenix.

“My masters studies provided me a wide breadth of management and leadership theory and practical knowledge which I believe will help me with my decision-making skills, personnel management skills and approach to operations that I believe will lead to high morale, improved operations efficiency and financial health”, added Rinehart.
